

MATTEO DE BENI

SHORT CV

Matteo De Beni is Associate Professor in Spanish linguistics.

His current research interests are:

- ❖ Technical-scientific texts written in Spanish, with a focus on astronomy, medicine, natural sciences (16th-19th century).
- ❖ The history of Spanish language and diachronic lexicography.
- ❖ The history of translation and comparative analysis of original texts and their translations.

In 2017 he has been elected Académico Correspondiente by the Academia Norteamericana de la Lengua Española (ANLE, New York).

He is the director of the book series Pliegos Hispánicos (publishing house: Universitas Studiorum, Mantua) and member of the editorial or advisory board of several scientific journals:

- ❖ LynX. A Monographic Series in Linguistics and World Perception (Department of Spanish and Portuguese, University of Minnesota, USA – Departament de Teoria dels Llenguatges i Ciències de la Comunicació, Universitat de València), ISSN 2171-7702 (member of the advisory board).
- ❖ Iberoamérica Global (Department of Romance and Latin American Studies, The Hebrew University of Jerusalem), ISSN 1565-9615 (member of the Equipo internacional de colaboradores);
- ❖ Orillas. Rivista d'ispanistica (Università degli Studi di Padova), ISSN 2280-4390 (member of the editorial board);
- ❖ Pasaventos. Revista de estudios hispánicos (Universidad de Alcalá de Henares), ISSN 2255-4505 (member of the scientific committee);
- ❖ Pygmalion (ITEM, Madrid), ISSN 2171-3820 (member of the editorial board).

Teaching:

His teaching activities cover several aspects of Spanish linguistics, such as Spanish lexicon and morphology, history of the Spanish language, variation and language contact in the Spanish-speaking world.

Scientific association membership:

- ❖ Associazione Ispanisti Italiani (AISPI);
- ❖ Asociación de Historia de la Lengua Española (AHLE);
- ❖ Asociación Española de Estudios Lexicográficos (AELEX).

Web page and list of publication:

<http://www.dlts.univr.it/?ent=persona&id=3613&lang=it>
<https://univr.academia.edu/MatteoDeBeni>